After School Enrichment Program

Classes are filled on a first - come, first - served basis. If the class is filled or cancelled you will be notified by the AS program and reimbursed.

Please inform your child's teachers about which Enrichment class(s) they are taking and schedule changes and pick up information.

Pick-up:

It is important that you are on time. It is also important that your children leave promptly upon dismissal and that they do not interact with the students in regular After School otherwise this becomes a liability issue and a management quagmire for the After School staff.

Student conduct:

The After School program, including Enrichment classes, do not have the same staff and space resources that are available during the school day and unfortunately may not be able to adequately serve children who repeatedly require one-on-one intervention. Continual inappropriate and/or unsafe behavior will impact the safety of the child and/or his/her peers and may result in a student's removal from Enrichment program and/or the Afterschool program.

A Brontosaurus in Brooklyn...

Writing creatively is a great way for kids to take a break from their book reports in order to tell their own stories. By exploring less restrictive forms of writing such as poetry, short stories, and creative-nonfiction, students will become empowered to turn their own lives into art. In this course, we will bravely try our hands at writing exercises from imitating Louis Carroll's "Jabberwocky" poem to writing the story we see behind a painting. By the end of the term, the students in this class will possess a self-made anthology of creative writing worthy of any parent's bookshelf!
